TERMS & CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE OF PRESENTATIONS

Note: Submission does not guarantee acceptance. Selection is at the sole discretion of the organizers.

IMPORTANT: Presentations are accepted on the following conditions; the organizers reserve the right to drop from the program at any time presentations that do not meet these requirements:

- Presentations must be tailored to the needs of the commercial feed industries: there must be a practical take-home message that delegates can apply to enhance their business efficiency, competitiveness and profitability
- Presentations must be generic: specific product or company presentations or excessive use of trade names will not be accepted.* Please be sensitive to the spirit of the conference: our delegates object to paying to listen to a sales presentation and such presentations always generate a very negative response and image for the company. Delegates will respond favorably to you and your company with sound scientific/technical information that they can apply to their business.
- Presentations must provide information new to this audience.
- Presenters are required to make available all requested presentation materials in the format required and by the given deadlines. Sometimes deadlines may seem to be unduly early from your point of view—however those dates are set for a reason. Late delivery may mean your details are omitted from the proceedings, delegate handouts, press releases or other materials. For our part we try to make the process as easy for you as possible and will provide you with ample notice of due dates.
- Presenters will be responsible for their own expenses unless otherwise agreed beforehand in writing.
- Conference presentations are copyright Aquafeed.com, LLC.
